Notes on face-to-face classes

Always Be Careful!

All across Japan, infection among university students, most cases are caused by travel, extracurricular activities or ill-advised social gatherings. We remind students to behave responsibly and with extra vigilance, so that we can keep our campus open and safe for everyone.

TU Novel Coronavirus Disease Task Force

When you get up

Check your temperature

Students should take their body temperature before leaving home every morning to make sure that they don't have a fever. If you feel unwell, such as fever, coughing, and lethargy, you will feel sick, please stay home and check on you.

When you take a class ①

Wear a mask

A mask must be worn at all times on campus. This includes the commute to and from home. Students taking classes with physical activity or sports will be given special instructions by a teacher in charge.

When you take a class ②

Scan the code and sign in and out

There will be a QR code posted in each lecture room. Students must scan the code and sign in and out, so that their movements are recorded for tracing purposes. And, you will also need to register your temperature.

When you take a class ③

Disinfect your hands

Alcohol solution will be placed at the entrance of each room for students to disinfect their hands before entering. Equipment that is shared, must also be disinfected before and after use.

When you take a class ④

Thorough ventilation

The windows of lecture rooms are opened during breaks for ventilation. (Please help us open and close them.) Windows will be opened for ventilation even during class time.

On Campus ①

Conversations with friends

Away from class, students must continue to practice social distancing. Hang out and having conversations in poorly ventilated areas, especially in large groups, is strictly prohibited.

On Campus ②

Mealtime

At meal times, students should keep conversation to a minimum. The cafeteria will limit the number of people allowed to eat inside, but lecture rooms will be kept open during lunch-time so that students can eat there while social distancing.
